Others present: Volunteer staff support Nancy Bird.

The meeting was called to order by Chair Casement just after 5 pm.

There were no members of the public present at this time in the meeting. Later in the meeting, Mayor Clay Koplín and City Manager Alan Lanning joined in the audience.

Approval of Agenda

Motion to approve the agenda as presented made by McGann, seconded by Johnson. Unanimous approval.

Approval of Minutes from October 6, 2016 meeting

Motion to approve the minutes as presented, made by McGann and seconded by Johnson. Unanimous approval.

Review plans and timeline for two grants received for Certified Local Governments (CLGs) –

a. Red Dragon Historic District grant approved for a total project cost of $8,721 (CHPC share $3,600 in-kind, and Federal share $4,450 for contractual costs, administrative indirect costs $671). The products from this grant will be two historic preservation bronze signs for the Red Dragon and St. George's Church, one additional larger interpretive sign, and additional historic details posted to the Red Dragon Historic District website. Volunteer Nancy Bird briefly described her plans to recruit additional volunteers from the church membership to assist her in researching and drafting the interpretive sign and updating the webpages. She hopes to follow the calendar schedule outlined in the grant application. She will recruit additional helpers, as needed, from the commission or church membership.

b. Copper River Highway Milepost History Tour grant approved for a total project cost of $7,567 (CHPC share $3,125 in-kind, and Federal share $3,860, administrative indirect costs $582). The products from this grant will be a two-sided color brochure that is a milepost guide from Mile 0 to Mile 12 of the Copper River Highway. Commission members Sherman, Johnson and Lange will coordinate this project.

Both grants must be completed by Sept. 30, 2017. Detailed timelines for project work for each grant are included in their respective grant applications.

Review and approve proposed amendments to Cordova City Code, Chapter 18.90

Former Museum Assistant Bird reviewed a draft she prepared of city code Chapter 18.90 including proposed amendments. McGann, who also serves on the city's Planning and Zoning Commission, said the P&Z wants to revise the entire Chapter 18 to make it less ambiguous, clarify issues and improve its consistency.

Motion made by Sherman, seconded by McGann to recommend to the Planning and Zoning Commission adoption of the Chapter 18.90 amendments as presented.

Discussion ensued and general consensus was in agreement with the revisions proposed. However, it was pointed out that review by the State Historic Officer would be helpful in regards to Section 18.90.040; is the language and process included there still consistent with state statutes and procedures? After further discussion, consensus reached to withdraw the motion on the floor and have the Commission Chair (Casement) send these proposed code revisions to the State Historic Preservation Officer for review and comment prior to the next CHPC meeting.

Motion withdrawn and proposed action stated above endorsed unanimously.

Historic Building Surveys

This discussion follows up from the last meeting where general support was expressed to develop a new survey and inventory of historic properties. Wachtel summarized several detailed historic building surveys completed by state historic officers (focused on Orca Cannery, Lake Avenue and Main Street), and Sherman and Bird briefly described the last (less detailed) historic survey completed in 1985 of the entire town and noted a walking tour was completed in the mid-1990s. Hall briefly described a historic survey recently completed by the community of Hope on Cook Inlet.

Consensus agreement that we should try to review these past resources and others and continue discussion of this project for the future. Casement noted that the new history teacher at the high school would likely be willing to help with a building survey project through as a class project. Some discussion ensued on the value of community involvement in the commission's work.

Wachtel said he could share with other Commission members PDF documents of Rolfe Buzzell's historic survey publications.

Next meeting date

The next meeting will be in April; Bird will send everyone a Doodle poll to determine the best day and time.

Closing comments

Mayor Koplín thanked everyone for their service and expressed interest in the projects.

Adjournment

Motion to adjourn by McGann. No objection. The meeting was adjourned at just before 6 pm.

Certified Local Government Grant Application – October 2016
Sharing the Past: Red Dragon Historic District
Signage and website additions

Project Description

This education project aims to compile engaging and informative outdoor signs and webpages describing the rich history of Cordova's oldest still standing building, the Red Dragon. Built in 1908 by the Episcopal Church, the Red Dragon was open to all as a reading room, game room and gathering place. Artist Eustace Ziegler was its "manager" in its first decade and he designed the adjacent St. George's Church, built in 1918. These two buildings now comprise the Red Dragon Historic District (HD), recognized in 1982 on the National Register of Historic Places.

We propose to compile and install two interpretive signs (approximately 30 x 36 inches) that will provide both visitors and residents highlights and stories of the important role these buildings have played in Cordova's past. More detailed historic web pages will also be posted on the Red Dragon Historic District's website (www.reddragoncordova.org) and advertised through a variety of media. Finally, we want to install National Register plaques on both the Red Dragon Reading Room and St. George's Episcopal Church.

Two previous Historic Preservation Fund grants were received in recent years (2014-2015) for the Red Dragon HD. The Anniversaries Grant and a Certified Local Government grant together awarded over $32,000 to this historic district for structural rehabilitation work on the Red Dragon Reading Room. A new concrete foundation and a beautiful cedar shingle roof were installed in 2015 and 2016, with total project costs of $112,000. Another significant result of these grants was the publication of a National Park Service Condition Assessment Report for the Red Dragon.

Project Manager for those grants was Nancy Bird who also will be the Project Manager for this grant, if awarded. Bird previously assisted with the work for HPF grants received in the mid-1980s for the church and Red Dragon (Rev. Diane Tickell was the project manager then). Bird served as Project Manager for a Cordova Historical Society HPF grant project in 1984 which resulted in the publication of "From Fish to Copper: Cordova's Heritage and Buildings," by Nicki J. Nielsen (1984).

The interpretive signs proposed for completion through this project will educate visitors and community residents about the historic significance of both the church and Red Dragon Reading Room. While the upgrades completed to these buildings in recent years have received a lot of community support, there is limited knowledge by the public about past uses and activities, as well as the people who made things happen, within the buildings. The signs will be placed on the entry porch of St. George's Church and immediately adjacent to the Red Dragon so that visitors will easily see them.

Both the signs and the increased historical information proposed for placement on the website will help build further financial support for future work required to preserve these buildings. The next major project is rehabilitation of the foundation and roof of St. George's Church. We also want to complete additional interior renovations to preserve and restore the historical integrity of the two structures and also improve existing facilities. Many of these renovations are recommended in the NPS condition assessment report.

Preservation Objectives

This project supports the following goal of Certified Local Government grant priorities:

Goal 1: Increase public awareness of the value and importance of Alaska's archeological and historic resources.

The project contributes to these goals and objectives of the state historic preservation plan.

Goal 1: Foster respect and understanding of Alaska's archaeological and historic resources and promote a preservation ethic.

Objectives:

- Interpret archaeological and historic sites to educate the public
- Improve awareness of and access to historic preservation information
- Encourage accuracy of information about historic places and archaeological sites

Goal 5: Promote historic preservation as an economic development tool and provide incentives to encourage it.

Objectives:

- Demonstrate that historic preservation is a successful economic development tool to maintain, enhance, and revitalize communities and to promote tourism.

It also meets a priority of our community by celebrating our past and sharing our history.

Finally, this project contributes to Cordova's historic preservation plan by expanding our knowledge about local history, specifically about the individuals who used the two buildings in the Red Dragon HD and activities held there during Cordova's first century. It is a short-term project with tangible goals and results which will serve current and future generations. It also is a project which will likely be well-received by the public and increase interest and support for our local historic preservation commission and their future activities.

Project Location

The project is based at the Red Dragon Historic District in Cordova, Alaska (address is 100 Lake Avenue). St. George's Episcopal Church and the Red Dragon Reading Room are the two buildings included in this historic district, recognized on the National Register of Historic Places in 1982. The HD is located on Lake Avenue between First and Second Streets.

Work Plan

This is a significant historic area in our community containing Cordova's oldest building. Cordova residents, visitors and all those who have an interest in Alaska's history are the intended audience for this education project. In addition to local newspaper coverage about the project, we will host, at minimum, two public events about the project near its completion. Teachers and students will be targeted for one of these two events because we are saving Alaska and Cordova history for our future generations to come.

Certified Local Government Grant Application – October 2016
Copper River Highway Milepost History Tour

Project Description

Twelve miles of the Copper River Highway are well traveled on a daily basis, although numerous historic sites along this route are not well-known. In 2008, the Alaska Legislature officially recognized and named seven bridges along this section of the highway for former Cordovans. Recently installed highway signs acknowledge this honor but few who pass by are aware of who these individuals were or why they are being recognized.

We propose to produce a two-sided color brochure describing both the highlights of historic sites between Milepost 0 and 12 of the Copper River Highway, and detailing the service of the recognized individuals (for whom bridges are now named). We also will post the content of this brochure online and advertise its availability through the City of Cordova's and the Cordova Chamber of Commerce's websites, as well as other venues.

Milepost 0 of the Copper River Highway is at the original Ocean Dock, adjacent to the current Ocean Dock where the Alaska Marine Highway ferries dock. Milepost 12 is at the Cordova Airport, officially called the Merle K "Mudhole" Smith airport.

Tentative list of mileposts to include in this brochure (further details about these sites would be written up):

- Milepost 0 – Cannery Row and original Ocean Dock, where the Copper River & Northwestern Railway began its 196-mile journey to the Kennecott Copper Mines
- Milepost 0.5 – Turnoff to Railroad Avenue which was the railroad's route along the waterfront
- Milepost 1 – Masonic Hall, built 1925
- Milepost 1.1 – Downtown district, 1 block by 2 blocks lost to major fire in 1963
- Milepost 1.2 – Alaskan Hotel and Bar, built 1908
- Milepost 1.2 – Cordova House, built 1908
- Milepost 1.3 – Former Lutheran Church
- Milepost 1.3 – Pioneer Igloo #19, built 1927
- Milepost 1.4 – Red Dragon Historic District, located adjacent to the original Cordova Depot for CR&NWR
- Milepost 1.5 – former trestle crossing of the CR&NW Railway over Odiak Slough; point out that the hospital is on the site of the railway's Roundhouse, on Odiak Pond.
- Milepost 1.8 – One of the oldest native cultural sites, the summer fishcamp for Eyak natives
- Milepost 2 – Powder House was the site of the dynamite storage shack for the railway.
- Milepost 4 – Historic marble marker made by CR&NW Railway builder Michael Heney in honor of the laborers who build it.
- Milepost 5 – Major avalanche occurred here in January 2000.
- Milepost 5.7 – Eyak Lake exits into Eyak River; bridge is named for Marie Smith Jones, the last Eyak Native who was fluent in the Eyak language and who worked tirelessly to preserve Eyak. Downriver is the site of an original Eyak native village. The largest Eyak native village was at Alaganik, at Milepost 22.
- Milepost 7 – US Naval communities site established 1910; small community here until about 1920. Later used by Alaska Dept. of Transportation; remnants of DOT building still standing.

- Milepost 7.5 bridge – Michael Dean Banta was a veteran killed during the Vietnam War (Born 10/5/1949, Died 10/2/1970)
- Milepost 8.1 bridge – Warren Allen Paulsen was a veteran killed in the Vietnam War (Born 8/10/1944, Died 6/24/1969)
- Milepost 9.2 - David Alen Lape was a veteran killed in the Vietnam War (Born 9/28/1911, Died 11/27/1967)
- Milepost 9.7 bridge – David Henry Elisovsky was a veteran killed in the Vietnam War (Born 7/24/1947, Died 1/23/1966). Awarded the Military merit Medal and Gallantry Cross with Palm.
- Milepost 10.2 – US Forest Service gazebo and information kiosk
- Milepost 10.4 bridge – Leonard F. Olson was a World War II veteran who died April 13, 1945, in Okinawa.
- Milepost 11 bridge – Norman D. Olsborne was a World War II veteran who died April 25, 1945 from wounds sustained in action in Luxemburg on Jan. 6, 1945. Awarded the Purple Heart and Oak Leaf Cluster.
- Milepost 12 – US Coast Guard Aviation station, established in 198x to provide search and rescue primarily for the commercial fishermen and women.
- Milepost 12.3 – Merle K. “Mudhole” Smith airport. Named for Smith who was a bush pilot for decades, owning Cordova Airlines which he sold to Alaska Airlines.

Nancy,

Hello and Happy New Year. The only things on our end that we want or need to see in an ordinance for the CLG program are below. As long as it lays out that the commission will do the following things than you should be good. Right now it looks like the only thing that is specifically called out is reviewing NR nominations. Number 2 is somewhat covered in your C. Provide Advice and Information, but it would be good to add some language about reviewing and making comments on projects. Number one is discussed in your F but we would suggest changing the “commission may” to the “commission shall draft...”

The local government’s historical preservation commission will:

- 1) develop a local historic preservation plan providing for identification, protection, and interpretation of the area's significant cultural resources. This plan is to be compatible with the Alaska historic preservation plan.
- 2) review and make recommendations about local projects that might affect properties identified in the historic preservation plan.
- 3) review nominations to the National Register of Historic Places for properties within its jurisdiction.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Subject: Request for your review of Cordova's code regarding Historic Preservation Commission

Hi Summer,

I'm sending you an electronic copy of the current Cordova City Code which established and governs the Historic Preservation Commission. You'll see proposed amendments (strike-outs and additions in a few sections), primarily housekeeping from our end, that the Commission is in favor of recommending be adopted. Before sending these recommended amendments up the chain here, we'd like your review of the code, particularly the section that references state activities/plans.

Jim Casement, Chair of the Commission, is sending you a formal letter with a hard copy of these proposed code amendments. You'll probably receive it in the mail in a few days. I thought you might like it electronically as well.

Thanks!

Nancy Bird
